

George Fox University

Adjunct Instructor of Applied Trumpet & Jazz Improvisation.

Position begins August 30th. This position includes teaching classical and jazz trumpet lessons from 3 - 5 hours each week, on either a Monday or Wednesday at our Newberg, Oregon Campus. The instructor will also lead jazz ensemble brass sectionals every other week, and perform with the Faculty Jazz Combo & in Faculty Concerts as desired. Typically, they also fill in as a ringer in the Chehalem Symphony and Symphonic Band, when needed.

Fox students come from a variety of backgrounds and are of many majors, including music majors. Most non-music-majors are taking lessons as part of their music scholarship package, with the goal of improving their performance in Symphonic Band, Orchestra, and/or Jazz Ensemble. Music majors are preparing for juries and recitals.

Pay is $60/hour.

Throughout its entire 132 year history, George Fox University has been a Christian faith community. While full time faculty and staff are selected from the Christian faith community, part time Applied Music faculty can come from a wider faith background.

Interested applicants should contact Dr. Dwayne Corbin at dcorbin@georgefox.edu as soon as possible, but no later than August 10th, to receive a link for the application. Applicants will be required to submit a CV, references, performance samples, and a formal application.
